PLAINFIELD.

A large and appreciative audience was present at the exhibition given by the school children Friday evening. The interesting program, which was well given, displayed much work and study by the pupils as well as teacher. Special mention should be made of the essays by the high school and also of the drills by the other pupils of the grades.

Some excitement was caused Tuesday at town meeting, when the floor suddenly gave way and settled six or eight inches underneath the voters, but people are not surprised that this occurred, when they learn the result of the license vote.

OPERA HOUSE NOTES.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower."

"When Knighthood Was in Flower," with Miss Grace Merritt in Julia Marlowe's old role of "Mary Tudor," is announced for the opera house to-night. The dramatization of the story is so complete that not a single sentence of importance in the book is missing from the play. From the opening scene in Windsor Park until the curtain drops on the final union of "Mary Tudor" and "Charles Brandon," Charles Major's book is before the audience. The play is in its seventh season of popularity and is proving a greater favorite than ever before. While Miss Merritt's clever work is undoubtedly the most prominent factor in keeping afresh its popularity, the play itself is one that will probably live for many years to come. Embracing as it does the salient features of nearly every class of the drama, it not only meets with the enthusiastic approval of the lover of romantic drama, but the most ardent devotee of melodrama or even musical comedy finds the greatest enjoyment in this fascinating story of life in the court circles of England during the Tudor period. The supporting company of over twenty players, with which Miss Merritt has been surrounded, includes a number of well-known artists, while Manager Ernest Shipman has provided a most elaborate scenic and electrical equipment for the production.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulates cure bilious attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

NORTHFIELD.

Mr. Chas. Williams, recently of Boston, now principal of the Conservatory School of Expression, of the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, will give an entertainment in Guild hall, Tuesday evening, March 10th, under the auspices of the "Ladies' Literary" club. Mr. Williams will be pleasantly remembered in the synopsis of the "Crisis" and the "Real Diary of the Real Boy," which he gave here three years ago.

INVITED TODAY

To Test and Try a 75c Bottle of Uric-O at Our Expense.

If there are still any sufferers from Rheumatism in this county or wherever this paper reaches, that have not yet tried the wonderful Rheumatic Remedy Uric-O, we want them to try it now at our expense. We firmly believe that there is not a case of Rheumatism in the world that will not yield to the wonderful effects of Uric-O, and we want to prove it to every doubter beyond all possibility. The best way to do this is to give a large trial bottle of this remedy outright to every sufferer and let him test and try it to his own satisfaction. If you or any of your family suffer from rheumatism, no matter what form, just cut this notice out of the paper and send it together with your name and address, also the name of your druggist, to the Smith Drug Co., 166 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y., and they will send you by return mail a liberal trial package free of all expense. There is no reservation to this offer. You take the remedy home and use it according to directions until thoroughly satisfied of its merit.

We could not afford to offer to do this if we did not know that after you are freed from this dreaded disease that you will recommend it to all your friends who have rheumatism. We know from experience that personal recommendation from one person to another is the most valuable advertising, and that is the way we intend to acquaint the world with Uric-O. Don't put off writing because this offer will soon expire, and then it will be too late. Do it today and start yourself upon the highway to perfect health and happiness. Send for Uric-O, no matter where you live. It is sold by druggists all over this country, and we want you to have a bottle free.

Uric-O is sold and personally recommended in Barre by Rivkett & Wells of the Red Cross pharmacy.

CHELSEA

Mr. and Mrs. Alva W. Whitney went Wednesday to Barre City to visit their daughter, Mrs. Hodgdon.

Miss Ida Mowry of Wilder, who has been the guest of Madam Ann E. Goss for several weeks returned to her home Wednesday.

C. I. Hood of Lowell, Mass., who came last week to visit his brother, and look after the interests of his farm, and ninety head of registered Jersey being wintered there, returned to his home Wednesday.

The next entertainment which is in store for our people is a concert by the Glee club of the Montpelier seminary which will be given at the opera house Monday evening, March 9th. The club will be assisted by Miss Bag, a violinist of reputation.

Among those from out of town who were here on business Wednesday were George Stephens, White River Junction; C. E. Gossard, Boston; Merrill F. Chapman, Sharon; Chas. E. Bugbee and Dep. Sheriff James O. Kendall, Stratford; C. M. Steele, Brattleboro; A. S. Killary and S. E. Brownell, Burlington and H. C. Celley of Montpelier.

The entertainment at the opera house Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society was of more than usual interest, and was well attended. The entertainment opened with music by the Chelsea Brass band orchestra of six pieces, after which the Hon. Hale K. Darling introduced the Hon. Frank Plumley of Northfield who spoke for an hour and a half on the country, the life, habits and customs of the people of Venezuela, confining himself more especially to the city of Caracas and her people. Mr. Plumley's lecture was greatly enjoyed and appreciated as was manifested by the hearty applause tendered him at the close. The evening's entertainment closed with fine music by the orchestra.

To Continue Constitutional Experiment

SHOWN BY HIS REPLY

To Moscow Reactionaries—A Prop for Representative Government—Visit to Russia Planned by the French President.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—The emperor's reaffirmation of his intentions to persist in the constitutional experiment, delivered in answer to the ultra-reactionary address of the Moscow nobility is regarded as a serious reverse to the campaign for the restoration of absolute autocracy. The newspapers here are unanimous in the expressed belief that the emperor's words denote the growing stability of representative institutions.

A visit to Russia this summer by M. Fallieres, the president of France, is regarded in diplomatic circles as a practical certainty, in connection with the extensive trip that has been planned during which the French president will return the visits of the monarchs of Sweden and Norway, and also go to Copenhagen. M. Fallieres will not start on his tour until about the end of July. He will be escorted by a squadron of warships, which will go to Cronstadt, as on previous occasions. Nothing is known in diplomatic circles here regarding the reported intention of King Peter of Serbia to visit Russia, or that of Emperor Nicholas to visit Italy.

Two bombs were thrown Wednesday into a concert hall which was crowded with school children. They were engaged in singing the national anthem at the time. A panic followed, in which two of the children were badly injured.

ENGLISH RED TAPE.

War Office Methods and the Test of a Mountain Gun.

The story that a gun of marvelous possibilities invented in England may be sold abroad owing to the apathy of the powers that be is not altogether surprising.

Whitworth refused Napoleon III's offer of $50,000 a year for life to go to Paris and manufacture his cannon for the French army, but perhaps our war office was not so faddy then as now. Some little time ago a new gun for hill fighting was offered and was sent out to India to be tried. It was dragged up steep hills, rushed down rocky ditches, left for a week at a time in mountain torrents—in fact, submitted to all the tests which a veteran officer accustomed to war with the hill tribes could suggest.

The report was satisfactory in every respect, but a war office genius blandly asked if the gun had been dropped down a precipice. It had not.

The war office was horrified and amazed at the neglect of so elementary a test. The gun was now dropped down a precipice with the inevitable result—its internals were irretrievably damaged.

How was it possible, the war office asked, to accept such a weapon? And the army of India was left to pester along with obsolete weapons because this new arm would not stand impossible tests.—London Sketch.

What She Was Trying to Accomplish. The other morning at the breakfast table three-year-old Jeannette was poking vigorously with her knife at a biscuit.

"What are you trying to do, Jeannette?" demanded mother. "Be careful; you will cut your hand."

Said Jeannette, "I'm trying to unloosen this biscuit; it's so tight!"—New York Times.

Several Years Ago

Mr. P. A. Balam of Mansfield, Mass., heard from Dec. 30th, '97, several years ago I had a very severe attack of the piles and after trying more than a dozen remedies Hill's Pile Pomade was recommended to me. I used two tubes and was entirely cured and have never seen anything of them since. I consider it a panacea for all troubles of that kind. Your druggist has this remedy. Remember the name—Hill's Pile Pomade.

Ways of the Men Who Lose Their All in Wall Street.

What becomes of the men who lose in Wall Street. They are seldom heard of. The visitor to New York gets the notion that the gay crowd of men at the Waldorf—the "uptown street"—comprises them all. But this crowd is altogether misrepresentative and has no true sign value, says a writer on Wall Street in the New Broadway Magazine.

You can retain your equilibrium easily in watching them by remembering that Runner of New Britain is hiding somewhere, a fugitive from justice; that Jumper of Milwaukee is in prison; that there are many other men who went down hard with big crashes, and that for every one of the big men there are 10,000 little men whose losses are smaller, but not a whit less fatal.

You would find some of them tonight in New York, if you knew in what window to look, figuring anxiously and endlessly, looking over insurance papers to see if further losses are admissible.

Their wives are sewing; their daughters are studying stenography. You will find others hanging about hotel lobbies, and the moment you catch their eye or grip their hands you know that they are nervous, distraught, broke, restless—typical Wall street victims.

The others, professionals, parasites, satellites, winners, you will find in the cafes and hotel restaurants, making up a large part of the crowds at Sherer's and Delmonico's, Mason's and Becker's, the Waldorf, Manhattan, Astor, St. Regis and McLeod. Wall street by day demands the Great White Way at night. From the moment the market opens till the close the game is a fast and furious one of sharp trickery, clever betting, railway, bluffing, hypocrisy, lying.

Nerves are constantly tense; the brain must be clear and quick at every move. Successful lying uses up gray matter, and the dash and festivity of the Tenderloin at night are just unnatural enough to fit in and offer the kind of recreation desired.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Martha Davis, aged sixty years, of Peoria, Ill., who recently died of dropsy, in her life had been operated on eighty-five times.

Mrs. Rose Politzer of Chicago has legally adopted Mrs. Julia A. Horman. The foster mother is sixty-five years old, and the foster child is forty-five and has a husband.

Mrs. Sophia Crofts, 105, lives in Old Quebec. Her relce and appetite are good, but otherwise her faculties have sadly failed. She says she daily prays to "be ben Dier" to take her.

Who can beat the record of Miss Cahill, who is now a junior in the Bath (Me.) high school? For the past nine years, or ever since she entered the public schools, she has not been absent or late.

Mrs. Abner Bates of Folly Cove, East Gloucester, Mass., is a remarkable woman for her eighty years. She recently collected twenty-two wishbones and dressed them up for dolls to be sold at a hospital fair.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Nichols of Newark, N. J., claimed the letter mailed Dec. 30, 1854, at New Orleans to "Miss Elizabeth Garthwaite, Newark, N. J." The letter reached its destination of its half century delay may never be cleared up.

Mme. Fritz Scheff, the prima donna, has her voice insured for $50,000, and a clause in the contract provides that if she loses her voice for more than a week from any cause whatever an ascending scale of remuneration shall be paid the management and if it should become necessary to abandon the tour the entire sum shall be paid.

Mr. Ferry—Greatness is all comparative. For example, an elephant four feet high would be called a little thing, while a rat of that size—

Mrs. Ferry—Yes, and it is for a bonnet is an enormous expense, but it isn't anything at all when you lose it at cards.—London Fun.

Scientific Learning. "Chess, checkers and whist are marvelous inventions," says the philosopher of folly. "They enable a man to waste his time and still have the feeling that he is accomplishing something intellectual."—Cleveland Leader.

Making Faces. "I saw a man in a window making faces today. Symple—What was he doing that for? Saucce—For a couple of clocks. He is a jeweler.—London Fun.

Hard Lines. "Does your wife make you explain all your acts?" "Worse than that." "Worse than that?" "Far worse; she doesn't permit me to explain them."—Houston Post.

The Three Periods. Jason—There are three periods in a man's life when he does not understand a woman. Grayson—And they are? Jason—Before he knows her, when he knows her and afterward!
